Notes for ANDREW LORNIE:

Andrew Lornie, has the unfortunate distinction of being the goalkeeper on the wrong side of the world scoring record. This was achieved on September 12th, 1885 When Arbroath beat Aberdeen Bon-Accord 36-0 in a Scottish Cup first-round tie.

According to a contemporary newspaper report the match against Bon-Accord was the "most amusing" seen in Arbroath.

The report in the "The Arbroath Guide" states: "The meeting of these teams in the first round of the Scottish Cup ties was expected to end in an easy win for Arbroath, but few anticipated the farse enacted at Gayfield last Saturday..."

"There could scarcely be said to have been any play shown on the part of the Bon-Accord, and from the beginning of the game the goals began to accumulate at an alarming rate."

To be fair, it has to be said that Bon-Accord were just a bunch of working lads who decided to form a team, whereas Arbroath were an established club.

Extracts from the 1986 Guinness Book of Records.

GOAL SCORING

Teams :- The highest score recorded in a first-class match is 36. This occurred in the Scottish Cup match between Arbroath and Bon-Accord on 12th September 1885, when Arbroath won 36-0 on their home ground. But for the lack of nets and the consequent waste of retrieval time the score could have been even higher. Seven further goals were disallowed for offside.

Individual :- 13 John Petrie for Arbroath v Bon-Accord on 12 Sept. 1885.

Notes for SIDNEY LORNIE:

Extract from the Sunday Telegraph on April 28th 1985.

" Aberdeen plasterer Sidney Lornie and his wife, Olive, can afford rueful smiles as the centenary of soccer's most outlandish scoreline approaches, writes Hamish Mackay.

On September 12, 1885, Arbroath whacked Aberdeen Bon-Accord by the oft quoted record score of 36-0. Few remember, however that on the same day, down the coast at Dundee, Aberdeen Rovers were thrashed 35-0 by Dundee Harps, also in the first round of the Scottish Cup.

Sidney Lornie's grandfather, Andrew, was the hapless goalkeeper who picked the ball out of the Bon-Accord net 36 times all those years ago. Amazingly, who should have been in goal for Aberdeen Rovers but Olive's own grandfather, William Wilson. The people who sets sports quiz questions are going to have a field day on that one.

Sidney, who married Olive in 1952 treats the whole affair with admirable stoicism. " You have to laugh about it. What else can you do after carrying a load like that all these years. " The Lornie story, one of many is part of the soccar memorabilia flooding into Gayfield Park, home of Arbroath, as the famous day nears. "
